

The Cleveland Orchestra announces Perfect Blossom Picnic contest

by Samantha Spaccasi

The Cleveland Orchestra has announced the Perfect Blossom Picnic contest to take place on Saturday, August 5 at Blossom Music Center before the ensemble's performance of the "Tchaikovsky's Favorites" program.

Participants, who must enter by Thursday, August 3 and will receive one free lawn ticket for the evening, are invited to set up a picnic on the lawn. The soon-to-be-announced judges, including an Orchestra member, local Chef, and Radio personality, will select two winners — best food and best presentation — based on taste, creativity, and style. Entrants must make a plate for the judges and will be given numbered balloons for location purposes. Judging will take place from 6:30-7:30 pm, and winners will be announced via Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram at intermission.

The grand prize is a pair of tickets to an upcoming Cleveland Orchestra concert of the winner's choice at Severance Hall during the ensemble's 2017-2018 Centennial Season.

Click here for more details and to enter the contest.

Click here to see details on Facebook.

Published on ClevelandClassical.com July 31, 2017.

Click here for a printable copy of this article

Return to the Front Page.